

SVZ: Expert partner by nature

With more than one hundred years of experience with fruit and vegetables, SVZ has become an expert supplier to the worldwide food industry. SVZ has the knowledge and skill to produce ingredients from these natural raw materials, that meet your requirements and ensure the success of your products. You can count on maximum effort from our employees; be it for just-in-time deliveries or the development of an ingredient tailored to your specific needs, SVZ is here to assist you in all areas.

Full range

---

SVZ is able to supply fruit and vegetables in a wide ranged format. You can choose from:

- Fruit or vegetables (from strawberry to spinach)
- Processing (from puree and concentrate to infusion)
- Preservation (from aseptic to frozen)
- Packaging (from carton to tanker truck)
- Logistics (from pallet delivery to 40 ft. container)

For more information about our services, simply request the detailed information brochure about the SVZ product groups 'Verifruit®', 'Compounds', 'IQF', 'Juice and juice concentrate' and 'Puree and concentrated puree'.

Service makes the product complete

---

A product from SVZ consists of more than simply the fruit or vegetable ingredient. Such aspects as just-in-time delivery, spread deliveries, stock storage, consultancy and assistance in product development and marketing make the products from SVZ complete.

---

From bulk to tailored deliveries

---

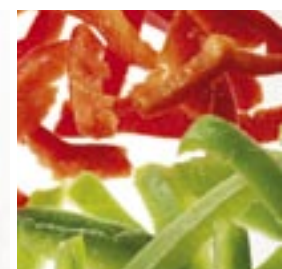

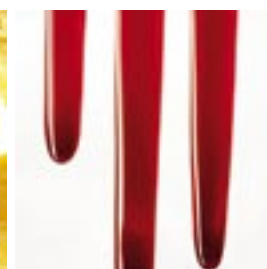

Large volumes or small batches; for either, SVZ should be your first port of call. In fact, large volumes are not by definition bulk products. Even in this particular product, SVZ delivers tailored products, for example in customer-specific packaging or product compositions. We also excel at developing an ingredient that meets your specific requirements.

---

Added ideas mean added value

---

SVZ collaborates with its customers in order to jointly come up with innovations and improvements. In this process, SVZ contributes a wealth of knowledge and expertise, which goes far beyond merely the characteristics of fruits and vegetables. Our specialists can also advise you on concepts, the use of ingredients in recipes, the production process and the most efficient, logistic process.

SVZ lays the perfect foundation for your product

SVZ is more than just a supplier. SVZ not only fully manages production and supply, but is also having all preceding processes under control. As a consequence, throughout the year, SVZ can offer a multifaceted range of products, of guaranteed quality. In addition, the all under one roof production system gives us the flexibility to ensure that our deliveries always tie in with the customer's production process.

Controlled cultivation

---

The agronomists at SVZ cooperate with growers on several continents. Together, they ensure that fruit and vegetables are grown according to the requirements imposed by legislation and specific customer wishes.

---

Worldwide purchasing

---

SVZ operates a purchasing network that encompasses the whole globe. As a result, we are able to process the right raw materials, in the right volume, and at the right moment, in our own factories. Throughout the year, this means that we are able to honour our agreements with our customers. The network also enables us to broaden our product range with fruit varieties new to the industrial market, and which offer opportunities for innovative concepts.

Flexible production

---

The production plants operated by SVZ are close to their sources, in other words wherever the fruit and vegetables are grown, and where transport routes to our customers are most efficient. Because we process the raw materials on site, we can rapidly respond to changing customer wishes for example in terms of product composition, quality, preservation method and packaging type.

Reliable logistics

---

Worldwide, SVZ collaborates with transport operators who are conversant with the requirements we impose on the transport of fruit and vegetable ingredients. Frozen or refrigerated, a few kg or a thousand tonnes, in a single or combined order, every batch is delivered as agreed, anywhere in the world. This combination of logistic expertise guarantees maximum reliability.

Security for quality, supply and continuity

SVZ is an international business with branches in various countries and continents including Europe, North America, Africa and Asia. For more than one hundred years, SVZ has shown itself to be a reliable and solid supplier. In addition to the company's own production facilities, we also have our own purchasing and sales offices, backed up by a network of local agents right across the planet. As a consequence, we can serve our customers all year round.

SVZ, backed by Royal Cosun

---

Since 1986, SVZ has been part of Royal Cosun. For more than 100 years, this international group of companies has been manufacturing and marketing ingredients and foodstuffs for the food industry, food service and retail sectors. SVZ has its own R&D centres for research, development and quality control. This research capacity is deployed proactively, but also as part of specific customer projects. We can also call upon the services of the Cosun Food Technology Centre (CFTC), the R&D centre of Cosun.

---

Guarantees for safety and quality

---

SVZ operates stringent internal and external quality controls, according to the standards imposed for safety and quality. SVZ is a member of SGF, and is HACCP and organic certified. In addition, we can produce fruit and vegetable ingredients that meet the strict requirements of the baby food industry. Halal and kosher certification can also be offered.

---

What can SVZ do for you?

---

If you have any questions, problems, needs or wishes, simply let us know. Our staff will either have the answer, or will go in search of a solution. For customer questions and problems, they rely on their own expertise and experience, as well as access to their own R&D centre, an international purchasing and production network and cooperative ventures with external specialists.
